

Veterinary Nutrition Consulting

Dr. Evelyn Kass-Williamson

When your clients are looking for natural therapies to aid their pet's healing, I can help.

I have been using nutrition and supplements to effectively manage many chronic diseases including

The body has a tremendous ability to heal, if we give it the tools (nutrients).

Food as Medicine

I have researched many prepared pet foods for protein, carbohydrate, fat content and ingredient type and quality.

I have foods for many health conditions including obesity, cancer and others.

I can create balanced, homemade diets appropriate for many health conditions..

Our health is determined in part by genetics and in part by environment. Lifestyle choices including diet, environment and exercise turn genes on and off. We can affect and improve 70-90% of health challenges with lifestyle choices.

My goal is to teach you and the pet owner which choices are best for their pet.
